Elizabeth McDowell, IMHC
Registered Mental Health Counselor Intern, SWFL Counseling
8280 College Pkwy Suite 103 Ft Myers FL 33919
swflcounsel.com

Elizabeth McDowell is a Christian mental health counselor, and a graduate of Liberty University where she received a Master's degree in Professional Counseling. She has worked with a variety of clients and issues, but she has a passion for working with adolescents and their families, young adults, and married couples. She also has a passion for working with individuals struggling with depression, anxiety, self-esteem issues, and relational distress.

Elizabeth works to help her clients identify and overcome negative beliefs and thought patterns that result in dysfunctional ways of behaving. She wants her clients to leave their sessions with more insight and understanding, with more grace for themselves, and with more tools to equip them for lasting change. She also believes that a person's faith is an essential part of their journey in counseling, and she incorporates that in sessions by approaching issues from a biblical perspective, and utilizing spiritual techniques in steps for change.
